Positively Managing Stress

The goal in stress management is to reduce or eliminate stress. Stress management techniques help individuals learn to deal with difficult situations. List techniques for stress management.